FRENCH SOUND BRITAIN ON RUHR COMPROMISE

TWO MILLION HAUL OF WET GOODS MADE

10,000 Cases of Champagne, Fine Wines and Liquors Taken by Raid in New York City

FILLED SIX-STORY WAREHOUSE IN LOWER MANHATTAN DISTRICT

Most of it Held in Storage Since Before Volstead Act

NEW YORK.—Prohibition agents Saturday made one of the largest raids since the Volstead act became effective when they seized 10,000 cases of champagne, wines and liquors valued at $2,000,000, and arrested seven men.

The agents seized filled several floors and the cellar of a six story warehouse in lower Manhattan. Most of the liquor, the prohibition agents said, had been in storage before the Volstead law went into effect and all was of the finest quality.

The manager of the warehouse was among the arrested.

PANDOLFO GIVES UP BLAMING PRESS FOR HIS FINANCIAL FALL

CHICAGO, Ill.—By The Associated Press.—Suffering from a form of "nervous paresis or exhaustion," caused by Paris doctors, one of the Pan Motor companies of Spain and Morris Strugden, said to have lost millions in the United States, pleaded guilty after appearing in vain from a sentence of ten years in Leavenworth prison and $10,000 fine, to conspiring $1,000 to defraud Dr. Forrest Dewing Lee, after conviction of using the mails to defraud.

The reorganization of the Pan Motor company of which Pandolfo was president, was approved by Judge Landis, who also approved the plan of Pandolfo to go to Spain. He expressed confidence that friends and business associates would contribute sufficient money to liquidate the debts and that Pandolfo would be able to return to the United States.

ENGINEER OFFICER IS FOUND SLAIN; HIDDEN IN CAVE

SAN ANTONIO, Texas.—The dismembered body of Warrant Officer [illegible] Regular corps of the United States army, was found in a cave on the Camp Bullis reservation thirty miles northwest of San Antonio, Texas, Friday afternoon, according to information received here Saturday. Officers who made the discovery declined to make public the name of the murderer, but it was learned that he is in custody. Lieutenant [illegible] was last seen alive on March 17. The slayer is said to have confessed to the crime which was committed because of a thirty dollar debt. No sign of a gun was found near the body, but the head was severely beaten in.

SECOND HERRIN TRIAL JURY ACQUITS STRIKE SLAYERS; SIX FREED ON FIRST BALLOT

ALL CASES DROPPED

MARION, Ill.—By the Associated Press.—All of the untried criminal indictments growing out of the Herrin riot were subjected to a nolle prosequi Saturday following the acquittal by a jury Friday night of six defendants charged with murder in connection with the outbreak.

MARION, Ill.—By the Associated Press.—After deliberating less than seven hours a jury for the second time this year walked into the courtroom here Friday night with verdicts of not guilty for defendants charged with murder in connection with the Herrin riots of last June.

The verdicts freed six defendants, Hugh Willis, state executive board member of the Illinois Miners; Phillip Fontanetta, Oscar Howard, James Brown, negro; Bert Grace and Otis Clark. Grace and Otis Clark were acquitted in the first Herrin riot trial. The six were charged with the murder or conspiracy to murder, Antonio Mulkavitch of Erie, Pa., a veteran of the world war.

Only one ballot for each of the defendants, six in all, was taken, J. C. Coughlin, foreman of the jury, said.

Justice Impossible, Says Prosecutor

CHICAGO, Ill.—Justice cannot be obtained in Williamson county in the opinion of Attorney General Edward J. Brundage, who returned Saturday from Marion, where a second verdict of acquittal was given by a jury in the Herrin mine murders trial. It was as a result of this verdict that in all the remaining cases against the alleged rioters a nolle prosequi was entered by the state's attorney of Williamson county.

"Splendid Victory" Says Union Head

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—By The Associated Press.—President Frank Farrington of the Illinois Mine Workers today characterized as a "splendid victory" and "one that confirms my faith in the innocence of our indicted members," the acquittal at Marion of the six defendants charged with murder in connection with the Herrin riot.

700,000 OF BRITISH WORKERS INVOLVED IN BIG LABOR DISPUTES

Welsh Miners and Norfolk Farm Laborers Already Striking; Fear More

BUILDING LOCKOUT AND RAIL STRIKE IS FEARED

General Strike Hovers in Offing as Wage Cuts Threaten

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—The industrial outlook in Great Britain at the present time is regarded as extremely disquieting. It is estimated that nearly 700,000 workers are involved in disputes with their employers, and that some 50,000 are already on strike. These include the Welsh miners and the Norfolk farm workers.

Building Lockout Feared

The employers of the building trades announce today a new schedule of wages and hours which will become operative on April 11. If the men do not accept it a lockout of nearly 2,500,000 workers may result. Arbitration is proposed but the issues are much involved and it is uncertain what course will be decided upon when the leaders of the fourteen unions to which the building operatives belong meet next Monday to discuss the new schedule.

Another source of industrial and national anxiety is in the differences which have arisen over the railway employes' wages. The employers propose an extensive reduction, and this is regarded as holding the possibility of a general railwaymen's strike throughout Great Britain.

The dispute in the pottery trades involves about 60,000 men.

Lose Italian Trade

CARDIFF, Wales.—By The Associated Press.—With the strike in the Rhondda coal fields now involving 48,000 men, leaders of the industry are taking a gloomy view of the future. Italy, hitherto one of the best customers of South Wales is also reported to be buying extensively in America.

Two hundred steamers are awaiting coal in South Wales ports.

GIRL SENSELESS WITH BOOZE—FOUR MEN ARE TAKEN

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Mabel McCarthy, a 20-year-old girl, was found in an unconscious condition Friday night, in the company of four men who assert that they came from Madison to Milwaukee, and gave their names as William Sutton, said by the police to be a paroled life termer; Robert Kane, Edward Jones, and Roy Smith. The girl, who was taken to the Emergency hospital, is said to be suffering from alcoholism.

SAYS U. S. AFTER GERMAN ROADS

BERLIN.—Charges that America was trying to get control of the German railroads and a prediction of the danger of a France-Belgian combination holding a world mining monopoly were made by Dr. Neuhausen, a German engineer.

PROMISES LEAGUE WILL BE ISSUE IN CAMPAIGN OF 1924

Asserts U. S. is Sole Agency that Can Keep France and Britain in Peace

NEW YORK.—By The Associated Press.—Declaring the only serious bar to America's entrance into the league of nations is "a small group of able but ambitious men some of them very old who are characteristically prodigal of the lives of others," former Justice John H. Clarke of the United States supreme court Friday night served notice that the league issue would be forced into the 1924 election, and that no candidate for the presidency or the senate would be permitted to conceal his position for a single week.

Criticize Senator King

Speaking on the sixth anniversary of America's declaration of war on Germany, at the first of a ten day series of mass meetings throughout the country arranged by the League of Nations Nonpartisan association, of which he is president, Justice Clarke said:

"It is reported that Senator King of Utah, speaking for the democratic party management, says the league of nations is not to be an issue in the presidential campaign next year. We shall see! We shall see!

League Association Grows

"Tell it not in Gath, publish it not in the streets of Askelon' or of Washington, but the suspicion grows that the churches and women's clubs and the great newspapers will have something to say about that, and that the farmers and labor unions will have something to say about it, and I promise the senator that our 4,000,000 young soldiers and the League of Nations Nonpartisan association will have a great deal to say about it.

"Our association is already organized in every state in the union and long before this time next year we shall have an organization in every congressional district in the country. It may as well be accepted in advance that no candidate for the presidency or for the senate will be allowed to conceal his position for a single week on this great moral question; whether he prefers this new national agency for peace or the old method of brutal war for settlement of international differences."

Arbiter for England and France

Justice Clarke, who resigned from the Supreme court to work for American entry into the league, declared that more pressingly now than ever before did "the fate of the world hang upon this decision."

Besides serving as a warning to Turkey, Germany and Russia against disturbing the peace, he declared, America's influence in the league was the safe agency that could keep England and France "in amity and peace."

"With Germany and Russia prostrate, as they are," he said, "modern Europe means only Great Britain and France and what the world in the near future must be, depends on whether these two nations shall be friends or enemies."

OFFICIAL CANVASS SHOWS VERCHOTA MAJORITY OF 287

Complete Vote in Charter Election Canvassed by Council Friday Night

TIE VOTE IN THREE WARDS IS DECIDED BY LOTTERY

Complete Condemnation Proceedings for School Site

THE official canvass of election returns by the common council in a special session Friday night revealed that Alderman Verchota, successful candidate in the mayoralty race, received 287 votes majority over A. A. Bentley, present incumbent.

The canvass showed that Bentley carried ten of the twenty-one wards in the city. J. B. Murray, defeated candidate in the primary election, received eight votes in the charter election, his name being written in four times in the First ward, twice in the Seventh and twice in the Twenty-first.

Treasurer Vote

For the office of city treasurer, J. George Schweizer received 6,857 and Fred Schnell 2,926 out of the 9,783 votes cast. For justice of peace, Hunt received 5,246 and Robinson 4,618.

In three wards, the First, Third and Twentieth, where the vote was tied for minor offices, the council drew names from a hat to decide the office. O. J. Ash and William Besek were tied for justice of peace in the First ward, the former's name being drawn in the lottery. M. Richards was chosen constable in the Third ward over Nick Bartl by the same method, while A. O. Black won the office over John Hanson in the Twentieth.

A resolution introduced by Alderman Murray for a 4 inch water main in Tenth street, from Mississippi to Winnebago streets, was adopted by the council.

Condemnation Completed

Condemnation proceedings to acquire sufficient land for the construction of the Lincoln school were completed Friday night when a resolution was adopted appropriating $2,000 to A. Brieske for the north 28 feet of lot 3, Stevens' addition. A court commission placed the valuation on the property when Brieske refused to accept less than $2,500 for the property. In this connection, the board of public works was ordered to sell to the highest bidder the buildings on lots 4 and 5 of block 7, and clear the grounds.

A petition of property owners against the construction of a factory by the Rice company in the residential district near the Franklin school was read in the council. The communication was referred to committees.

CONVICT BIG THREE OF POLITICIANS IN ROCK ISLAND RING

Mayor, Chief of Police and Go-between Sentenced to Penitentiary

ROCK ISLAND, Ill.—The first vice trial of Rock Island's clean-up resulted in a verdict of guilty for Mayor H. M. Schriver, former Chief of Police Cox and Lawrence Pedigo, alleged under-world chieftain. Saturday morning after sixteen hours' deliberation. They were found guilty by a jury in circuit court of conspiracy to protect lawless privileges, and sentenced to the penitentiary for indeterminate terms. Cox received in addition a fine of $2,000.

When the jurors walked out of the court room and into the street, passers-by lifted their hats to them. The three convicted men have been a power in local and state politics for years.

LUEDER P. M. AGAIN?

WASHINGTON.—Reappointment to the Chicago post mastership of Arthur Lueder, defeated republican nominee for mayor in last Tuesday's election was forecast Saturday in official circles here.

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Snow ranging from one to six inches in some cases accompanied by lightning and thunder and followed by rain, was reported from various sections of Minnesota and South Dakota Saturday. At the same time came a report of the first prairie fire of the season Friday near Stickney, S. D.

COUNTRY BOYS HERE FOR CONFERENCE OF CITY BOY SCOUTS

Organization of a Rural Troop to be Outgrowth of Conference at Elks' Club

RURAL BOYS ARE GUESTS AT HOME OF LA CROSSE SCOUTS

Business Men Who are Directing Fund Drive Watch Youngsters

SEVERAL scores of Boy Scouts and their boy friends from all over La Crosse county came to the city Saturday to attend the rural boys' conference, which is a preliminary to the formation of a rural scout troop. The country boys were met by the city scouts and were escorted to the Elks' club rooms. At noon, the visitors were the guests of the city scouts at their homes.

In the morning the boys, under the watchful eyes of Scout Executive Burgess, made the twelve different triangular bandages for heads, fingers and hands, performed the eight required carries of the Boy Scouts for injured persons, made stretchers out of coats, practiced artificial respiration for drowning persons. Assistant Scoutmaster William Herbert gave a talk on first aid on the farm.

Business Men Watch Stunts

While the boys were practicing their first aid stunts, a number of business men who are on committees that are working to make a success of the Boy Scout fund drive that will be held next Tuesday and Wednesday dropped into the Elks' club to watch the boys at work. The boys were complimented by the committeemen and fund solicitors for their efficient work in bandaging the heads and hands of their comrades.

As the Scout fund drive workers watched the boys at work they were told something of the life the boys enjoy and the things they learn to do that will make them self-reliant men, at the summer camp of the Boy Scouts, Camp Young Bear, at Council bay, on Black river near Hunter's bridge.

Twelve boys under the leadership of Scoutmaster W. S. Scullin, went to the camp on July 17 last year and began to prepare the campsite for the coming of the other boys during the summer. These twelve pioneer scouts had to cut poles and stakes for their tents, clear the grounds, put in two pumps, and while they were getting the pumps in they had to carry drinking water for a half mile, mix the concrete for the base of their flagpole and build a bridge over the ravine in the camp. The boys also built the camp kitchen and helped with the kitchen work. Later the boys put up a wireless set that was given them by Ben Ott.

Two Indians at Camp

Dan Young Bear and Jim Smoke were the two full blooded Indians who were at the camp during the four weeks the boys were there. Young Bear supervised the swimming of the boys and taught a number of them to swim. During the camp season scouts were there from Elroy, West Salem and Sparta, besides those from La Crosse for whom the camp was instituted primarily. To help maintain this camp is one of the reasons why the two-day drive for funds is to be made next Tuesday and Wednesday by the business men of the city.

The Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs and the physical education department of the normal school were entertained at the camp last summer. Pow-wows were put on by the boys for each of the clubs and the physical education students. Young Bear and Jim Smoke, dressed in chieftains' garb, put on their Indian dances, in which many boys participated.

334 Boys Attend Camp

Three hundred and thirty-four boys attended the four weeks of camp. Every Sunday afternoon religious services were held in the "Witches' Gulch." On Sunday morning every Catholic boy in the camp was bundled into autos and taken to Galesville where they attended mass.

Scout penny savings books are now being circulated among the boys who are already saving for the camp next summer. It costs a boy $1.30 to stay at the camp two days and $5.60 for seven days. They can not stay at the camp less than two days nor more than seven.

The Scoutmasters of La Crosse are: Troop 1—Harry Spence; 2—Thomas Gantenbein; 3—Victor Severson; 4—Claire C. Congdon; 5—John C. Coleman; 6—Irwin Sheldon; 7—Arthur Renner; 8—W. Arvin Simonson; 9—Wm. Herbert, acting Scoutmaster; 10—Ray Hadgraft; 11—Frank Guethner; 12—E. J. Wollschlaeger; 13—Milan Skundberg; 14—Mathias N. Spab, Jr.; 15—Myer Levy; 16—Olaf Espeness; 17—Thomas Sletten; 18—Morton J. Lyons; 19—Ed G. Kevin; 20—Adolph Sweenes; 21—Wm. Strauss; 22—Rudolph Schlabach; 23—Father Leuther; 24—Paul Marcou; 25—John Stokes; 26—Father Hoffman; 27—Walter Kubiak.

PROPOSE BIG SLASH FOR REPARATIONS; GERMANY TO ASSUME ALLIED WAR DEBT

One-Man State Conservation Board Passes Assembly

MADISON, Wis.—The Smith bill reducing the state conservation commission from three members to one, was finally passed by the assembly Saturday and sent to the senate. The vote was 59 to 5. Passage of this bill was advocated by Governor Blaine in his recent legislative message as a measure of economy.

Under the bill all duties and powers of the present three-man commission would be transferred to one man, who would receive an annual salary of $5,000. The commissioners now receive $3,500 each.

DRYS OFFER BILL FOR REFERENDUM ON LIQUOR ISSUE

Titus Proposes Referendum in Wisconsin on Repeal of 18th Amendment

WETS WANT REFERENDUM FOR "LOOSE" CONSTRUCTION

Schuman Suggests Plebiscite on Three Percent Beer

MADISON, Wis.—A bill which will provide for a referendum on the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment will be introduced in the upper house by Senator William A. Titus, Fond du Lac, on Tuesday.

This bill which would get the sentiment of Wisconsin people on the wet and dry question is backed by the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league. Drys claim that such a referendum would show the state with a dry majority.

The Titus bill calls for the submission of the referendum in November 1924 and under its terms voters would be asked: "Shall the eighteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States be repealed?"

The bill provides that if the voters favor repeal of the eighteenth amendment congress would be appealed to to repeal the national prohibition act.

Wets Want Different Question

Wets would prefer a referendum on a broader interpretation of the eighteenth amendment rather than its repeal. This sentiment is embodied in the bill introduced by Senator John C. Schuman Watertown, which calls for a referendum on three percent beer to be held April 1924.

The wet and dry question has become a real legislative issue. Wets claim that they have been strengthened as a result of the stand of Gov. John J. Blaine as against the present system of liquor law enforcement.

Next week is expected to bring the climax to the Wisconsin wet and dry fight. Wet forces have centered their attention on an attempt to pass two of their pet measures in the assembly on Wednesday.

Test on Sachtjen Bill

The real test of the wets is expected to come on the Sachtjen search and seizure bill. This would prohibit the search of homes by law enforcement officers unless they had definite proof that liquor was being made for sale. The bill is aimed to protect those who make intoxicating beverages for their own consumption.

The Kamke bill which will also be up for passage on Wednesday in the lower house would cut the appropriation for the state prohibition department from $60,000 to $10,000 and would also provide that the state department no longer take an active part in ferreting out liquor law violators.

Under the Kamke bill the prohibition commissioner would act merely in an advisory capacity to the district attorneys of the state.

BODY AT KIRKWOOD NOT MISSING PRIEST

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—By The Associated Press. Positive denial that the body held at Kirkwood, Mo., is that of Father John A. Vraniak, missing priest of Virden, Ill., was given the Associated Press Saturday morning over the telephone by Joseph Vraniak, the priest's brother, who with his mother returned to Virden after viewing the body.

HINTED POINCARE WILL BE RETIRED IF CHANGE COMES

Loucheur Makes "Private" Trip to London to Lay Plans Before Leaders

MILLERAND IS REPORTED AGAINST POINCARE POLICY

Dissatisfied With Results of Extreme Methods in Ruhr.

LONDON.—Reports that President Millerand of France is contemplating a modification of French policy in the Ruhr, and the retirement of Premier Poincare, apostle of the extreme policy of military sanctions leading up to the occupation now in force, were given wide circulation by the visit of M. Loucheur, who returned to Paris on Friday. While here on a visit described as "private and unofficial," M. Loucheur had conferences with Prime Minister Bonar Law, Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer, Lord Derby, secretary of war, and former Prime Minister Lloyd George.

Loucheur Slated for Premier?

It is understood that Loucheur came to sound out British views as to a possible change in policy in the Ruhr. He is mentioned as a possible successor to Poincare should a modification be adopted.

It is reported that Loucheur laid before the British a plan whereby there would be a substantial reduction in German reparations if Germany would agree to shoulder the French debt to the United States. French opinion is said to be that the Belgians and Italians would be willing to accept such an arrangement. It is understood, also, that the plan includes the approval of Great Britain to Germany's assuming the French, Belgian and Italian debts to England.

Parisian newspapers in general comment unfavorably on the visit of Loucheur to London, most of them suggesting that he is seeking an industrial compromise with Germany as a representative of the "comite des forges" or association of iron and steel magnates, which is in control of the mines of Lorraine.

Calls British Friendly

PARIS.—By The Associated Press.—Louis Loucheur, returning from London Friday evening, disclaimed the views on the reparations question attributed to him in the press; told the foreign editor of "Le Matin" he had brought back the conviction that British opinion had changed and that the great majority of the public sentiment in England was clearly favorable to France.

This attitude, he said, was also evident in the political world, except that there was mingled with it an uneasiness as to the possible consequences of the French Ruhr policy.

"I did not find an English politician, no matter what his party nor what views he entertained originally on the opportuneness of the Ruhr operation," M. Loucheur is quoted as saying, "who did not approve unreservedly when I declared that we will carry through this undertaking to the bitter end. Nobody, not even Mr. Lloyd George, had anything to say against that declaration."

Predicts Agreement

Le Petit Parisien says an entente agreement may be reached as a result of M. Loucheur's visit, pointing out that he is not a member of the government. The newspaper adds that before leaving Paris he had several talks with Premier Poincare at which the situation was thoroughly discussed. The former minister and his British friends, the journal affirms, are both satisfied with the result of the exchange of views.

Le Matin asks whether one may conclude from M. Loucheur's impressions that a change in England's attitude toward the Ruhr occupation is imminent.

The newspaper concludes: "Does M. Loucheur bring back from Premier Bonar Law suggestions of a nature which will hasten the abandonment of British neutrality?"

Warns Yanks, Seek German Railways

BERLIN.—By The Associated Press.—Charges that American interests have been trying to get control of the German railroads and that there is imminent danger of a Franco Belgian combination for a world mining monopoly as an outgrowth of the Ruhr occupation were made in an address by Dr. Neuhausen, a well

25 PER CENT RECALL BILL EXPECTED TO PASS NEXT WEEK

Permits Fourth of Voters to Force New Election by Petition

MADISON, Wis.—The Huber resolution providing for the recall of elective officials will be given final passage by the assembly next week. It has already passed the senate and the house sent it to a third reading by a vote of 61 to 16.

With this amendment to the constitution, 25 per cent of the voters can effect a recall by petition and a new election will take place.

Arguments for and against the measure hinge on whether or not the people of Wisconsin are ready to be given the recall power.

One Progressive Opposes

Assemblyman John Gamper, Taylor county, La Follette progressive, says that people are not ready to be given this power. He asserts that this is evident because of the ease with which public opinion is swayed by newspapers.

Gamper contends that if the Huber resolution were in effect during the war that Senator Robert M. La Follette would have been recalled and another man friendly to the big interests would have been sent to Washington in his place.

Gamper, however, is a lone figure among his political group in the lower house. Assemblyman James T. Oliver, Brown county, defends the resolution on the ground that the state can do no better than trust to the intelligence of the voters. This is the fundamental principles of democracy, he declares, and was the keynote of the foundation of the republic.

Fears Loss of Spine

Assemblyman A. E. Matheson, Janesville, is opposed to the Huber resolution on different grounds from that advanced by Gamper. He asserts that with the recall in effect, office-holders will lose their independence and back bone.

He pictures a condition where those in office will be in constant fear of the recall petition. Instead of being a democratic measure he says it is undemocratic. Not the majority but the minority will prevail under its provisions, he says, referring to the section which gives 25 per cent of the voters power to recall any candidate.

The vote on the advancement of the resolution is expected to be practically duplicated next week to send the measure to Governor Blaine for his approval.

"SOO" JUST AS BAD AS ARCTIC SAYS COLD EXPLORER

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich.—The Arctic circle has nothing on the Soo, said Vilhjalmar Stefansson, explorer, who spent twelve years in the frozen north and robbed the Arctic of many of its terrors and discomforts as he arrived in the Soo shortly before noon Friday and was greeted by a blustering snowstorm and a falling temperature. The famous explorer spent only fifteen minutes in the city. He was on his way to confer with the Canadian government officials at Ottawa.

Snowbanks twice the height of the explorer formed his background at the Union station as news representatives "shot" several feet of film. Stefansson viewed the locks and rapids as he crossed the international bridge into Canada and remarked enthusiastically on their winter beauty.

FEWER MEN IN JAIL

LONDON.—England today is supporting fewer poor persons and fewer prisoners than at any time since 1911. Thirteen years ago there were 117 indigent persons to each 10,000 of population living at the expense of the state, compared to 70 today. In 1911 the inmates of prisons and reformatories averaged 13.6 per 10,000 population as against 8.3 at the present time.

APPRECIATION

I wish in this way to publicly express my appreciation to the voters of La Crosse county who so generously supported me at the polls on election day. I wish also to assure them that I will endeavor in the future as I have in the past to promote in every way possible the best interests of the schools of the county.

O LORD

HEAR my prayer, O Lord, and let my cry come unto Thee.—Psalms 102:1.

A Leap in the Dark

THE action of the senate in advancing the bill to abolish the state board of education without even debate or roll call, is rather surprising, in view of its more deliberate methods touching other important legislation. Indeed, its disposal of a subject of such prime concern with a mere gesture of assent doubtless surprised Governor Blaine himself, despite the fact that the action was taken upon executive recommendation.

We can hardly conceive of the legislature going through with this plan without making a study of what the board is, and what its merits are. The governor based his suggestion entirely upon the administrative side of the board's work, which examination might have convinced him was the least important aspect of its functions. Our educational system is made up of groups that specialize in different lines. Each wants as much as possible for its department, and none is much concerned about other departments. Each sees educational policy from the narrow departmental viewpoint. The state board alone is free to study the system as one big problem; every department of which must, for best ends, function with an accurate sense of proportion between the various departments. It serves to make of education a complete chain, in which links shall be of equal strength, and without it we might soon learn that a chain is no stronger than its weakest link.

If upon a complete survey of the situation the legislature shall conclude that the state board of education is not worth its salt, it will go to the people backed by a record of having looked before it leaped. But it can not hope to justify the abolition of this board, off hand, with the confession that it did not take time for even casual study of its functions and its functioning.

Click! Click!

YOUNG ladies who type for a living will be interested to learn that the typewriter was invented 50 years ago this month. The inventor was Christopher Latham Sholes, and he perfected his device in Ilion, N. Y. Like all other important inventions, the idea of a typewriting machine had been buzzing in inventors' heads for untold generations. Probably even centuries. For laziness is back of most inventions, and the idea of a typewriter must have occurred to sands of years ago when the making of records was a slow and laborious task. As far back as 1714, Henry Miller patented a crude typewriter in England. He gave this description of it: "A machine for impressing letters single and progressively, as in writing, whereby all writings may be engrossed on paper, so exact as not to be distinguished from print." But to Christopher Latham Sholes, apparently, goes the honor of perfecting the first typewriter "that really worked." That is to say, a practical device.

It's queer how, when humanity tries to do anything in a new way, it cannot get the old notions out of its heads. For instance, the first railroad passenger cars looked like stagecoaches. And the first autos looked like buggies. So with the typewriter. In most of the earlier typewriting machines, models of which are preserved in the patent office, the keys were laid out in a row like the keys of a piano. It's difficult to thrust precedent aside. Finally the matter of convenience (laziness again) led to a rearrangement of typewriter keys in several rows. Then the letters instead of running in alphabetical order (a, b, c, d, etc.) were shifted so that the key to be struck next was as close as possible to the one just tapped. Penmanship was an accomplishment and a matter of pride in the old days, so many of the early typewriters printed an imitation of handwriting instead of type.

The typewriter has brought many advantages, but with it have come disadvantages worth thinking about. The typewriter has certainly aided in the facility of expression and communication (ease and speed), but it has also contributed to the multiplicity of unnecessary work by making expression and communication too easy. It has been a boon to the eyesight of those who otherwise would have had to scan penned letters. But it has destroyed the human and admirable art of letter writing, and frayed the nerves of multitudes. It helps promote business through direct advertising, but at the same time it aids the flow of worthless literature without end. All around, the typewriter forged one more link in the great chain of mechanical devices that enslave us. However, you can have the pen and ink, we'll take the typewriter.

Tightwads

WHAT is a tightwad? Uncle Sam, in a booklet, defines him as "a man who saves 60 cents out of every dollar, and expends 37 cents of the balance for living expenses, and one cent each for education, recreation and alms."

That description might hold true in some cases. But how about the rich? Thousands of them would find it next to impossible, no matter how extravagant, to save less than 60 cents on the dollar. You can't define a tightwad. It depends on the income of the individual, so it naturally varies. A poor man, ambitious to get ahead and accordingly saving 60 cents out of each dollar that comes his way, is a fox, not a tightwad. The trouble is, too many of us save without a definite motive. The motive—independence—usually exists until we are comfortably fixed. Then frugality is so firmly established as a habit that it becomes an obsession, form of mania.

How about a spendthrift? Ah, he's easier to define. Uncle Sam describes him as a party who saves nothing, spends 58 cents out of each dollar on living expenses, 40 cents on recreation and one each for alms and education. Doctors, specializing in endocrine glandology, will tell you that a dyed-in-the-wool spendthrift is simply a man with the peculiar condition of the adrenal glands that keeps him absolutely fearless. A hero, for instance, is a spendthrift with his life. A coward is frugal with his life—more than frugal, miserly.

Always an interesting subject, this matter of how much we should save. Uncle Sam's booklet says that the normally thrifty man saves 20 cents out of each dollar, spends 50 cents on living expenses and 10 cents each on alms, recreation and education. Strikes us as a sensible system.

Under False Colors

By H. IRVING KING.

A very pretty girl of about twenty-one or twenty-two sat on a mossy bank beneath a spreading oak. The birds sang in the trees, a brook murmured as it ran below the bank and everything was idyllic as could be desired. The girl was dressed like any other country girl; her face and hands were browned by sun and wind, and a healthy, ruddy glow shone through the tan on her cheeks. Swinging by its ribbons a coarse straw hat, she looked out over the summer landscape and hummed a gentle tune. Down a forest path which emerged down the woods near where the meditative maiden sat came a young man in overalls, driving an ox-team loaded with wood. The oxen came to a standstill at the end of the forest road and the youth looked at them in perplexity, evidently undecided just what he should say to get them started again. He tried "giddap!" but it did not work. The maiden by the brook laughed. At the silvery sound the young man turned and, for the first time, realized that he was observed.

"My dear young lady," said he, lifting his hat and slowly approaching the fair unknown, "your merriment is, no doubt, justified and will be forgiven if you will tell me how to get those beasts in motion again, for I am a farm hand of but brief experience and wot not of bovine self-starters."

"Oh, that's easy," replied the girl, "just say 'gee up there,' and flick them with your whip."

"Thanks, awfully," said the tall, sun-burned, blue-eyed stranger, "but before acting upon your expert advice, as my fiery steeds and their driver are somewhat wearied, would you mind if I sat down a while until we recuperate?"

Permission being hesitatingly given, the young man seated himself and they began to talk. They started with the weather, of course, and then branched out to birds and flowers and brooks and scenery, and might have got to Shakespeare and the musical glasses had not the girl suddenly started to her feet and cried, "My, look at the sun! It must be getting late in the afternoon. Good-by."

"Hold on," said the youth as she prepared for flight. "Dou you often come here?"

"Oh yes, very often," she said, and then was gone, tripping over the footbridge which crossed the babbling brook.

As the young man took his homeward way he reflected that all he had learned concerning the nymph of the woods was that her name was Annie Eston and that she was "stopping" with Farmer Cranston, who lived two miles down the main highway to the village.

And Annie reflected that all she had learned concerning the life story of the stranger youth was that his name was Ralph Holden and that he was "helping out" at Farmer Loring's, a mile or so up the road.

They often met after that—quite by accident at first, of course—and sat together and talked and talked beside the murmuring brook. And you may be sure that they made inquiries about each other immediately after their first meeting. Annie learned that Holden was really a summer boarder at Loring's and his "helping out" was purely voluntary and in the healthy exercise line.

Farmer Cranston was the most unpopular man in the district, for he would never supply information regarding the strangers within his gates—whether they were relatives, visiting friends or summer boarders. So Ralph learned nothing more about Annie than what she had told him.

Now with Annie the name "Ralph Holden" stuck in her mind. It was strangely familiar. Where had she seen or heard it before? She went to the village library and took down a volume of "Who's Who." Yes, there was Ralph Holden, millionaire banker and railroad director, sixty-five years old, clearly not her Ralph. She wrote to an old schoolmate in New York, which schoolmate had a friend who had lately gone in for doing society notes for one of the papers, and learned of a Ralph Holden, Jr., graduated from Harvard the previous spring and now supposed to be rusticating somewhere on a farm recuperating his health which had suffered from too much football and too much Greek—a dangerous mixture. Annie heaved a deep sigh and was very pensive all day after getting this news. But she kept her discovery to herself. It was so much pleasanter to let things drift along as they were. The summer passed and the first of September approached.

Then one day, as they sat in their accustomed place by the brook, Annie suddenly said, "Ralph, we have had an ideal summer. I shall never forget it, nor you. But tomorrow I must return to the city and resume those social duties to which I was unfortunately born. I have been deceiving you. I am not the simple country maiden I have led you to believe.

"Were you and I of the same social order things might be different. But you, dear, are only a simple farmhand; between us is a great gulf fixed. Good-by."

"But, Annie!" began the astonished Ralph. "Let me explain. I am not——"

"Never mind; not a word more; good-by," she interrupted and, placing her handkerchief to her eyes, Annie ran away with the speed of a fawn, ignoring Ralph's entreaties to "just listen a moment."

The next day Ralph went early to Farmer Cranston's, determined on an explanation with Annie. But he found she had gone—departed the night before and left no clew as to her destination. Ralph searched for her high and low, but without avail. He made extensive inquiries in social circles, but society knew her not. So the winter passed and then summer; and September was come again. One bright, clear day in the latter part of the month Ralph Holden's high-powered car got "out of kilter" in front of a country school-house in that indefinite region of New York state known as "up state." It was recess time and the children crowded riotously about the stalled car while the chauffeur investigated. A sad, pale-faced young teacher came to the door of the school to see what was the occasion of the tumult.

"Annie!" cried Ralph.

"Ralph—you?" said Annie. And to the amazement of her pupils she sat right down there on the doorstep and began to cry.

What more is there to tell? Only that Annie finished her term as teacher of the "deestrict" school—and it was the last one she ever taught. People say that Mrs. Ralph Holden is the most charming hostess in Newport.

PARIS TAILORS AND MILLINERS STRIKE

PARIS.—The strike of men's tailors and the millinery workers threatens to leave Parisians without their spring finery. The workers are asking a wage increase of from 10 to 20 per cent. The employers contend that the strikers are taking advantage of the spring season to enforce their demands.

GETS $1,800 IN AUTO CASE

IVANHOE, Minn.—In the district court here Mrs. Edward Osbeck of Lake Benton was awarded damages to the amount of $1,800 against Charles J. Johnson of Lake Benton. Mrs. Osbeck had asked for $10,000 for injuries received when she was struck by a car driven by the defendant on the streets of Lake Benton. Both plaintiff and defendant are pioneer residents of Lake Benton, Mr. Johnson being more than 72 years old.

LIGNITE COAL COST CUT

BISMARCK, N. D.—The "laid-down" price of lignite coal in the northwestern part of the state from some mines will be cut 10 cents per ton as a result of the action of the Farmers' Grain and Shipping company of Devils Lake in abolishing a switching charge of $3.60 per car for transferring cars of lignite between the Great Northern and Soo line tracks, according to V. E. Smart, traffic department manager of the state railroad commission.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS PLEAD FOR FAMOUS SHIP

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—A petition is being prepared by the Association of Spanish War Veterans to be forwarded to Washington in an effort to have the name of the Olympia, flagship of the American fleet at the battle of Manila Bay, removed from the list of vessels to scrapped.

If the gallant ship can be preserved, the Spanish War Veterans plan to repair it as a memorial to shelter the trophies awarded to Admiral Dewey, the ship, and the members of the crew after the Spanish flotilla was defeated.

The Olympia is fast rotting and rusting away in the lagoon at the Philadelphia navy yard. So anticipated now is the famous battle cruiser that one shot from a modern dreadnaught would send her to the bottom.

AUTOMOBILE TAX LEGISLATION BIG THING NEXT WEEK

Hearing of Three Rival Bills to Increase Levy Set on Wednesday

MADISON, Wis.—With the liquor question looked to take up much of legislators' time in the assembly and senate next week, interest in committee hearings will be centered on the review of three highway automobile taxation bills before the joint highway committee on Wednesday.

Two of the bills introduced by the Lighway committee deal with different phases of the taxation problem. One would levy a tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline and the other would place a weight and power tax on cars. The Polakowski bill incorporates both measures with a number of changes including a provision for a large portion of the tax to go back to cities. The Polakowski bill would raise $11,000,000, about the sum to be raised by the other two measures, and incorporates the gasoline tax, weight and power tax and a tax of two per cent on the valuation of the machines.

Vaccination Bill Hearing

The Fetter bill repealing compulsory vaccination for school children will be given a final hearing by the senate committee on education and public welfare on Tuesday and then will go to the senate for final passage.

The Eber Bill providing that the state engage in public works during times of extraordinary unemployment to remedy the condition is up for a hearing before the senate committee on state affairs Tuesday.

The Polakowski bill allowing cities to take over armories of the national guard will be heard by the joint finance committee on Thursday. The Warden bill providing that the state take steps to restore $7,500,000 paid in gallg by civil war property holders in federal taxes will be heard at the same time.

Standard Loaf Bill

The Czerwinski bill requiring bakers to adhere to a standard size for loaves of bread will be before the assembly commerce and manufactures committee Tuesday. The bill is opposed by the baking industry.

The assembly judiciary committee will on Wednesday hear arguments on the Cashman resolution memorializing congress to provide for a fitting celebration of the 150th anniversary of the declaration of independence.

The Gaus bill under which industrial plants near residences could be classed as nuisances as a result of vibrations or other objectionable features.

Two bills to make military drill at the university optional instead of compulsory as is the case now, will be heard at a joint hearing of the education and state committee on education and public welfare on Friday. These are sponsored by Assemblymen Swietlik and Polakowski.

HIGHLANDERS ON RIVOLI THEATER BILL FIRST HALF

Chapmans' Highlanders, ten musical Scots, head the vaudeville bill at the Rivoli theater for Sunday and the first half of the week. This company is famous for its interpretation of Scotch songs, music and dancing.

Acrobatic, Russian, and eccentric dance will be introduced by Dave and Tressie, a colored man and woman who recently appeared in the sensational show hit, "Plantation Days."

McGood, Lenzen and company will offer a remarkable act, using a billiard table as a background for their gymnastic stunts. A touch of beauty will be lent to the act by the presence of an attractive girl.

Clever monologue and difficult feats of equilibrium are combined by Jack La Vier, who does his work on a tricky trapeze. He puts over a hilarious exhibition in a pleasing and inimitable manner.

Bobby Roberts and Maude Clarke, musical comedy favorites, will be seen and heard in songs, dances and smart talk. An original type of comedy is to be introduced by Mr. Roberts, while Miss Clarke is noted for her fancy and beauty.

In addition to vaudeville program the feature picture, "The Nth Commandment," will be showing. Appearing in the picture are Colleen Moore, James Morrison and Eddie Phillips. The story is by Charles Hines, author of "Humoresque," and the picture is directed by Frank Borzage, director of "Humoresque."

Make THE Backyard Pay

YOU CAN TURN EXPENSE AND ANNOYANCE INTO FOOD AND FUN

By WILLIAM R. BEATTIE, Extension Horticulturist, United States Department of Agriculture.

Every man or woman who owns a home which is located on as much as a 20x100 foot city lot has an invested capital in land.

Business success depends on making invested capital pay an income large enough to return a profit.

That portion of the lot occupied by the dwelling returns as rent or living accommodations, but the "backyard" in most instances does not pay an income and often is a source of expense and annoyance.

During the war period, when the people were appealed to from the patriotic standpoint, thousands of backyards were made to produce garden vegetables.

Many thousands of others, however, remained either covered with grass or more often a weed patch and a collecting place for all kinds of rubbish.

Since the advent of peace many war gardens have been neglected—to private and public loss!

The space in many a city or village backyard may not be more than 20x60 feet in size. In some cases a portion of this is needed as a clothes drying yard. By using a folding clothes drying device, the amount of space required for drying the family wash can be reduced to a minimum, leaving considerable area for a garden.

Perchance a garage may occupy the extreme rear portion. This brings the available space down to perhaps 20x40 feet, or 800 square feet, a little less than one-fiftieth of an acre.

Right here most persons will be inclined to say, "Oh, pshaw, what is the use of trying to grow anything on such a small piece of land?"

Production figures supplied by a large number of backyard gardeners have shown that a small piece of land intensively cultivated can often be made to produce vegetables at the rate of $2500 to $3000 an acre, or if you please, about $60 for a small piece of ground that is available in the backyard, after all other demands have been met.

Dividing this by 12 gives a monthly rental of $5!

It is true that the land may be more or less shaded, either by the house or by surrounding buildings, and may not be suitable for the growing of certain crops requiring an abundance of sunshine.

There are a number of crops, however, that will grow where they are shaded a portion of the day, provided, however, that the shade is not that from trees, the roots of which will sap not only the plant food, but the moisture from the soil.

The work done by the public school gardens and the small gardens grown by boys and girls in club work has been a revelation from the standpoint of results obtained on a small area of land.

Thousands of cases might be cited where the backyard has been made to pay rent in more ways than one—and there is scarcely a condition so hopeless but what something can be done to get a moderate return in food and fun.

SARAZEN TOTES EIGHTEEN CLUBS IN HIS GOLF BAG

Golf experts tell you that it is foolish to carry too many clubs in your bag. Most of them say that half a dozen is plenty. Others stretch the figure to 10, allowing for duplication of certain clubs in case something should happen to your driver, brassie or mid-iron.

Most professional players say that the amateurs are too fussy about their clubs, that the moment they go bad they blame the slump on the clubs rather than their poor playing. Of course such a system makes business good for the club professional and they really shouldn't offer any advice to the contrary.

While most of the leading professionals insist 10 clubs is plenty to pack around, few of them live up to the doctrine they preach. The next time you attend one of the big tournaments count 'em.

At a recent tournament in the south, it was noted that Champion Gene Sarazen had his caddy weighted down with 18. When some friend commented on the number Sarazen replied:

"The boy is travelling a bit light today, four sticks are in my club house locker."

In golf you hear a lot of things that don't mean what they seem to.

CUNO SAYS FRANCE INVADED RUHR TO BREAK UP GERMANY

Startling Charges in Interview Granted William Phillip Simms

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS

BERLIN—In an exclusive interview given the writer in Wilhelmstrasse, Chancellor Cuno of Germany openly charged France aims at the dismemberment of Germany and the ruin of the German people.

If France accomplishes her purposes, according to Cuno, it will mean disaster and peacelessness for Europe and unrest for the whole world.

The German chancellor clearly made a bid for international mediation. He authorized the following statement:

"Throughout the months of the Ruhr invasion Germany and the whole world has been waiting for France to show the ultimate aims of her action.

"That she is not bent on reparations is shown by the universal opinion—shared by the allies—that the invasion diminishes the means to get reparations.

"But at last one of France's most astute politicians, M. L. Loucheur (whose work as minister for the liberated territories has engaged universal attention), in a public speech has given a hint of the French motives.

"He proposed to tear the Rhenish zone definitely from Prussia. He further proposed to 'emancipate' these German provinces and to make an artificial political body of them.

"I am grateful to Loucheur. He specifically proclaimed what Germany by bitter experience has known for centuries to be French policy; namely, dismemberment of Germany.

"There's but one answer to this French challenge: The Rhenish zone must remain an integral part of Prussia.

"We cannot permit France to interfere with the sovereign rights of this country.

"The dismemberment of Germany would mean not only the ruination of the German people but disaster and peacelessness to Europe and unrest for the whole world.

"For this reason the French policy of political aggression with so-called sanction can no longer be regarded as a Franco-German matter.

"French intentions of the dismemberment of Germany become more and more an international danger and concern the peaceful development of the entire world."

"Let the men wear the stars and swing the police clubs," Mrs. Marsh said.

"I'm a bit old fashioned, and I wouldn't feel exactly right wearing a big badge, carrying a revolver, and making arrests."

MOVIES

"THE Nth COMMANDMENT"

Eddie Phillips who with Colleen Moore and James Morrison appears in "The Nth Commandment," was the most popular screen player on the Coast during the picturizing of the popular Fannie Hurst story. Besides being good-looking Eddie is an expert roller skater, and this favorite indoor sport became quite a fad on the Coast following the filming of the roller-skating rink scene in "The Nth Commandment," which comes to the Rivoli Theater next Sunday.

Prior to the "shooting" of this scene, few of the Californians knew how to skate, and it was necessary to instruct more than a hundred girls in the art before they could be used as extras. Phillips showed them new stunts on the rollers.

Roy Stewart, the handsome young actor who plays opposite Pauline Frederick in her latest super-special production, "The Mistress of Shenstone," at the Casino Theater today has earned the reputation of being one of the most popular leading men on the screen. Until he signed a contract to play opposite Miss Frederick Mr. Stewart was starred in a number of the recent popular productions.

FRIDAY IS QUIET DAY IN AMERICAN BOWLING CONGRESS

Five Leaders Retain Positions for First Time Since Tournament Opened

MILWAUKEE BOWLER MOST CONSISTENT ON DRIVES

Scoring in Team Events is Featureless

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—Friday marked the passing of another drab day in the history of the American Bowling Congress when, for the first time since the tournament opened, almost a month ago, the five leaders in each of the four different events retained their positions.

T. Adams of Milwaukee, featured the singles play when he totalled 656 pins scoring in consistent games of 221, 224, and 211.

A Chicago team, A. Trapp and O. Trick made the best showing in the two-man event with a total of 1,272. Trapp was the heavy scorer with 692 his partner counting 580.

Scoring in the team event was featureless, the only creditable total being shot by the Nourse Oil company team of Omaha. The Nourses turned in games of 961, 985, and 959 for a total of 2,905. R. Seiple rolled 643 for the highest single count of the team.

In the semi final play in the team event tonight, teams from Chicago, Kansas City, Fort Wayne and St. Paul will take the drives in an effort to work their way among the leaders.

TODAY'S GAMES

4 p. m.—Kansas City, Kas., vs. Muskegon, Mich.

CHICAGO.—Tilden Tech, Chicago, lost its chance to appear in Saturday's semi final round of the National Interscholastic basketball tourney at Kansas City, Kans., 44 to 28 in one of the hottest games of the big meet at University of Chicago Friday afternoon. In the second matinee tilt, Muskegon, Mich., took Osage, Ia., into camp by a meager margin, holding a one point lead, 26 to 25, at the final gun.

Kansas City, Kan., in defeating Tilden showed speed that far outclass of the Chicago champions, who were victors over Morton Thursday night. The Tilden offensive rallies were slow in forming, Zuber and Barfelder breaking up many of the Tech team's tries and keeping Vaslovske firing from long range. Barry was the only Tilden player to buck through the tight daybank defense and jump the ball through the hoops with any regularity.

Proudfit Features

Proudfit was the outstanding performer for the Kansans. His brilliant floor work and spectacular basket shooting combined with the steady headwork of Schmidt and Zuber to whom the ball was fed directly beneath the basket, was too much for Coach Berger's crew.

Tilden scored a goal at the start of the battle, but toward the middle of the first half Kansas City evened the count, 2 to 2, and at the half led, 20 to 11. Vaslovsky's distance shooting brought hope to the many Tilden fans, but Barfelder, Schmidt, Proudfit and Zuber each scored for the visitors in succession and put the Kansas boy far in the lead.

Close Victory for Muskegon

The Muskegon-Osage battle was no less filled with thrills, the stellar shooting of Hagge and Hill for the Iowans and of Osterhaus and Bogerding for the Watermen featuring the play. The score was 12 to 6 in Osage's favor at the half. But Muskegon got a two point lead which was increased to six tallies toward the end of the encounter. The Hawkeyes put on a strong fight at the last, Hagge's free throwing making the score 26 to 25 forty seconds before the gun.

Big crowds gathered to see the present final play, participation being unusual.

NEWSBOYS DEFEAT JUNIORS IN FAST GAME ON FRIDAY

The Newsboys defeated the Juniors in a fast basketball game at the "Y" Friday, 12 to 10. The Newsies have now won two out of three games from the Juniors.

Ehnert, of the Newsies, made the first score of the game, sinking a long shot from mid-floor. Barrows was was the heavy scorer for the Juniors.

YESTERYEARS IN SPORT

Ten years ago, on April 7, 1913, Champion Johnny Kilbane "cleaned" two wolves for benefit of flood sufferers of Ohio, at Venice, Cal. Johnny Dundee was on same card.

Twenty-five years ago, on April 7, 1898, Ernest Roeber and Ismail Yousouf, the Terrible Turk, matched in wrestling contest for $500 a side at New York for date later in spring.

TRI-STATE BASEBALL CLUB ACCEPTS OFFER OF KOLBO SHOES FOR FIRST CONTEST

The Kolbo Shoes baseball team wasn't long in waiting for takers of their call for games on Friday. An hour before Friday evening's edition was off the press the Tri-State baseball team, formerly the Wile Brothers, accepted the offer and want the first game of the season with the Kolbos.

The Tri-State team will present a stronger line-up than that of the Wile Brothers last year. Joe Abraham is managing the outfit. The team will be ready to start off the season within another week and request managers of other teams to co-operate with them in arranging a schedule.

The Tri-States not only want games with local clubs, but will accept dates with out-of-town teams.

Let's go!

Roy Moore, Connie Mack's Castoff, May Star For Cobb's Tygers

AUGUSTA, Ga.—Roy Moore, Tyger southpaw, has more stuff than any other left hander in the American League.

Moore was secured by Detroit last year from Connie Mack over the waiver route. For three years Mack carried Moore, hoping that some day he would arrive.

Despite his great amount of stuff, a wonderful fast ball and a sharp-breaking curve, Moore has never been able to make any progress because of lack of control.

No batsman in the American League is a better judge of pitching than Cobb. The Tyger leader admits that Moore's stuff always impressed him, that frankly he never cared much about hitting against the former Philadelphian.

Naturally when Mack asked for waivers on Moore there was no chance of getting him out of the league. Cobb claimed Moore for the waiver price.

This year Cobb has as one of his assistants Fred Carisch, veteran big league catcher. Always a wise old head, Cobb turned over Moore to Carisch.

The moment Carisch saw Moore in action he changed his pitching style. Moore now looks like a different pitcher. Instead of a jerky delivery with a short stride, Moore is now using a long sweeping motion and a big stride.

In practice the change in style has worked wonders with Moore's control. If it stays with him in the regular games Moore is going to win a lot of ball games for Detroit.

CHICAGO.—President A. Heydler, of the National league, has put his O. K. on the Cubs' new park here and planned to attend the opening game here April 17.

"DONAHUE THE GREATEST EVER SINCE MATTY"

ORLANDO, Fla.—"The greatest pitcher that has broken into the National league since the days of Mathewson.

"The nearest replica to 'Big Six' I ever expect to see. He reminds me of Matty every time I see him wind up. There is ease and grace to every motion.

"The remarkable thing about that fellow is that he stepped right from the college diamond to the big league, a finished pitcher."

There you have the opinion of Joe Tinker, relative to Pete Donahue, star pitcher of the Cincinnati Reds. It was an unsolicited testimonial as Donahue was busy pitching in batting practice.

Pete Donahue is the youngster who joined the Reds several years ago direct from Christian Brothers college in Texas and won fame overnight. After his first game he was voted a star recruit, a real big leaguer, and he has since lived up to that reputation.

Donahue is expected to carry much of the Cincinnati pitching burden this year. He is a trifle heavier than last year, which is good news to Manager Moran, who would like to add even 15 pounds more to his star pitcher's weight, well realizing that Donahue has a busy season ahead of him.

HARRY HEILMANN LOSES THIRTY POUNDS AND IS NOW FIT AS FIDDLE

AUGUSTA, Ga.—American league patrons are to be treated to a real surprise when they look over Harry Heilmann, hard-hitting right fielder of the Tygers.

Always a great ball player, Heilmann appeared to be handicapped by a goodly number of pounds of superfluous weight. This seemed to affect his fielding and also slow him up a trifle.

Last year Heilmann became a handball enthusiast. He played at the game all winter, making his home in Detroit where handball is a popular indoor sport. There are those who say the big right fielder has few superiors at the game.

A daily workout at handball, plus some care as to his diet, has worked wonders with Heilmann physically. At present the big fellow is lighter than at any time during his major league career.

This time a year ago Heilmann tipped the scales at 230. His present weight is an even 200.

The loss of the 30 pounds is reflecting itself in Heilmann's work. There is more grace to his batting swing, he is covering far more ground than ever before and steps down to first base with the best of them.

What is more to the point, Heilmann says that 200 pounds will be his playing weight from now on instead of 230.

BASEBALL IS GREATEST GAME TO WATCH, SAYS FAMOUS GOLF STAR

"The greatest game of all to watch is baseball," says Jock Hutchison, famous golfer.

"When I say that, I am not throwing any cold water on golf," continues Jock. "Golf is a better game from a health standpoint, because age is no bar to playing it and it does not call for the strenuous exertion of baseball.

"However, no one for a minute would think of arguing that golf is as interesting to watch as baseball. I love to play it but can't enthuse very much as to watching it. I have always thought it took a game' person to follow two golfers around 18 holes on a hot day.

In golf the biggest thrill comes most of the experts become so perfect in their play that the matches get rather mechanical.

In golf the bigges t thrill comes when some expert makes a poor play rather than a good one. A sliced shot or a missed short putt is what causes the spectators to gasp.

"Most Englishmen enthuse over cricket but I don't. I think some of the boys are kidding themselves when they rave over that game.

"I like to watch soccer. It's a great game with plenty of thrills. I like it better than the American brand of football. I can also enthuse over a good horse race.

"However, the greatest game to watch is baseball and I believe I would have been a big leaguer if I had taken up baseball instead of golf as a kid. Say, I can go out and get a fly ball like Cobb or Speaker right now, but I don't hit 'em so well. I do better swinging at a golf ball."

SPOKE INTENDS TO HAVE MYATT DIVIDE CATCHING

LAKELAND, Fla.—Manager Tris Speaker and every other member of the Cleveland club are enthusiastic over the work of Glenn Myatt. The players feel that an injury of Steve O'Neill will not work so serious a handicap as in the past.

Myatt, formerly a member of the Philadelphia Americans, has been a couple of years late arriving because he was unfortunate enough to make his major league debut on a club that boasted of a star catcher.

As a result, Myatt graced the bench for more than a year, and was turned over to Milwaukee in a deal for Hauser, without Mack realizing what a great possibility he had on the bench.

Myatt came fast the moment he was given a chance to work regularly and gives promise of soon being regarded as a second Ray Schalk.

The recruit bats left-handed and hits them hard. He is a wonderful thrower and delights in pegging the ball around. He is very fast as catchers go. From Milwaukee comes the word that he uses great judgment in handling his pitchers.

"Myatt looks so good to me I intend to have him divide the work with O'Neill," says Speaker.

FINE PLAY GIVEN BY STUDENTS AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

Best Production Ever Presented at School is Verdict of the Critics

CAST IS EVENLY BALANCED AND ALL TAKE PARTS WELL

Ambitious Effort of Students Wins Endorsement

High school dramatics went up a notch and more into the Hoodlight Friday night when the Patchett and Mayer Dramatic societies staged one of the most striking plays ever seen in the high school auditorium, "The Charm School." Ex Alice Ives Meder and Booth Miller is a shapely the most difficult dramatic undertaking the two societies of any senior class has ever engaged in.

Under the direction of Miss Eva Mayer, dramatic coach of the high school the cast was made perfect, each member taking his or her part in a natural and clever way and acting in an entirely professional manner. The humor of the play was the outstanding feature and caused continuous applause from the audience.

The story begins in an apartment on the top floor of an old-fashioned New York house one evening, where two fine young men of different professions but all sharing the same amount of hard luck in a financial way. Austin Bevans one of the unfortunates, unexpectedly falls heir to a girl's school which is heavily mortgaged. Homer Johns, a wealthy gentleman, exceedingly interested in the welfare of the school, and holder of the mortgage, attempts to buy Bevans' interest in the school but the young man refuses to part with it as he desires to devote his life of an education to the girls. He determines to make the Patchin School for Girls a "charm" school and after a heated debate with his pals and the old gentleman they reach an agreement in which Johns promises not to foreclose the mortgage and also to leave his niece, Ellen Benedict in the school pending the new commander, Bevans, leaves Miss Hayes to whom Johns is somewhat interested, second in rank. David George, Jimmy Tim, the other members of the group, all strike for jobs as professors in the school and although these are not accepted at first they come to the school of their own accord and assume their duties, one as a history professor the other a ukelele specialist, the third, an attorney, and the last, a dancing teacher. Mr. Bevans makes it absolutely clear that none of the men, including himself, are to entertain the girls or teach them individually, while unchaperoned. All but Dave, the gruff history teacher, break this rule and from it a great many complications arise. Bevans cannot resist the charm of Miss Benedetti, and George Boyd gives him plenty of competition, in his own opinion, although the young and pretty girl sees nothing for him. Jimmy and Tim, the twins, are both wild about George's sister, who also attends the school, and it is found out that they took her to the movies several times. Finally, Ellen gives the whole school a scare when she runs away after Bevans does not accept her love for him. Bevans and Boyd both set out to bring her back, the former being successful while the latter lands in jail for cheating a taxi driver. After the girl and the boy return to the school the latter is forced to the witness and pretty advances of the heroine, to confess his love for her and to consider his charm school a success. Johns finally compromises with his divorced wife, Miss Hayes, and Sally Boyd receives information from her parents that she is going to be sent to college in the same town of Jimmy and Tim, and the twins persuade her to decide which one she cares the most for.

Gordon Kerr as Bevans

The part of Austin Bevans was especially taken by Gordon Kerr, who in the beginning of the story was an automobile salesman with many ideas, most of them about love, and resentment towards old people, whom he accused of taking all the joy out of life. This character was beautifully supported by Jane Orton, who played the role of Miss Benedetti, president of the senior class of the Patchin school which later became the "charm" school. Albert Hirschhorn disguised his voice very cleverly so as to correspond with his great size and gruff manner as the wealthy Homer Johns, guardian of Ellen. The part of Miss Hayes, who presided over the Patchin school for girls and who was loved and feared by all who knew her, including her divorced husband, was exceptionally well taken by Dorothy Rothange. A real character study in the school people, the secretary, Miss Curtis, who always tried to think well of the small girls was created by the emotional young actress, Marion Heitz. A combination of pep, humor and real dramatic ability was found in Thelma Smith, who took the role of Sally Boyd, George's brother. She demonstrated the old time girl's spirit to perfection. Two of the big laughs of the play occurred when Bob Schmitz and William Birnbaum appeared on the scene as twin brothers, Tim and Jim Simpkins respectively. These two waited for a fortune to enter their pockets when they should marry a rich heiress. They never looked for work because they were afraid that they might find it. A most peculiar young man was David MacKenzie, who struggled in vain as a lawyer when he would rather be a farmer, and he did not care a snap of his finger for all the pretty girls in the school. This part was lived rather than acted by Carlton Jones. George Boyd, posing as an expert accountant, fought his way into the school as an instructor where he spent all of his time asking Elise to marry him, when he was not conspiring against his rival. The role was successfully taken by Joe Holley.

Other Players

Five other attractive members of the senior class, whose lavish costumes made the play more beautiful, were Muriel Doughty, Enid Spelvin, Janette Mercier, Lillian Stafford and Madge Keil, which parts were taken by Mildred Metcalf, Gretchen Stenson, Loretta Lamorette, Kathleen Grams and Virginia Muhlenney, respectively. The high school orchestra played several selections from Lucrezia Borgia, Rustiana, Sousa's March Amarylis, Ais L'ois Thirteen and the Scarf Dance—Chaminade, before the play and between acts.

The production by high school talent was declared by many local critics to be the best of its kind they have ever seen. The cast was evenly balanced and all took their parts splendidly.

CONAN DOYLE PHOTOGRAPH OF SPIRITS OF WAR DEAD AMAZES GOTHAM AUDIENCE

NEW YORK.—A weird photograph, described by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle as that of spirits of war dead—myriads of grim faces hovering above the cenotaph of the Unknown Soldier in London during the two minutes of silence for prayer, drew gasps of astonishment from a large audience in Carnegie hall last night when he gave a lecture on Spiritualism.

Some women sobbed and even scoffers were thrilled.

"Do you see the dead creeping through?" Sir Arthur asked, pointing to the spectral faces on the screen. "You can see them everywhere."

There were two photographs, described as taken by Mrs. Dean, an English medium. The first a snapshot showed the great crowd standing bareheaded before the cenotaph. A faint luminous patch appeared over the throng.

The second picture showed countless heads of sad visaged soldiers floating above the memorial. The spectators were blotted out. Some faces were blurred, but others were distinct. The general impression of the audience was that the faces were those of men who had been killed in battle.

known mining engineer, before the Association of German Engineers.

Dr. Nechanson was introduced as speaking from facts gleaned during thirty years of activity in various countries, including the United States and Belgium.

"Before the war," he declared, "Germany led in heavy industry, surpassing the English and Americans. The result was the war. Had Germany won and the ore basins of Longwy and Briey been made available to her, then the American heavy industry would have been done for.

France Now Seeks Monopoly

"Now it appears a near possibility that France may assume Germany's position. For this she needs coke and the industry of the Ruhr district. American capital and will not permit France to dominate absolutely in the European mining industry. The big question now is this: Are the French ready acting in agreement with the Americans in the occupation of the Ruhr or have they stolen a march on the latter in order to prevent a world mining trust under American leadership?

"In accordance with its old trust recipe, America is interested primarily in getting hold of the German industrial railways. Therefore, it is now most highly dangerous to speak of 'privatizing' the German federal railways."

Increase Penalty to Mayor

BERLIN.—A French court-martial, sitting at Recklinghausen, has increased to three years the prison sentence imposed on Vice Lord Mayor Schaefer of Essen. His fine had been increased by 5,000,000 marks.

Herr Schaefer was arrested in February on a charge of not supplying French troops with automobiles and coal. For this he was sentenced to two years in jail and was fined ten million marks. He appealed. The second court-martial stated that it recognized the existence of extenuating circumstances in Herr Schaefer's case, but decided nevertheless upon a stricter sentence.

French Raid Agitators

SARREBRUCK.—Widespread raids to round up agitators are being conducted by order of the Sarre Valley commission in an effort to put an end to the activities of certain secret societies.

The commission in the official announcement of its action says the societies have created such unrest and assumed such proportions as to alarm the German government. The announcement declares the organizations are those which have sought "by violence to overthrow the administration created by the treaty of Versailles" in the Rhineland and have recently extended their activities into the Sarre Valley.

HOOCH AND BEER FED TO FISHES BY SHERIFF BEN LUND

Liquor and Intoxicating Beverages Used as Evidence in Court Cases Destroyed

Hooch, both alcohol and moonshine, home brewed beer and some wine was served to the fishes in the Mississippi river Saturday morning by Sheriff Ben Lund, when all intoxicating beverages that had been used as exhibits in liquor in county and circuit court for the past year were destroyed. The order to destroy the liquor was given the sheriff by Judge Higbee and Brindley and District Attorney Gordon. Liquor cached in the safe in the sheriff's office and in various vaults in the courthouse was poured into the sewer by Mr. Lund in the presence of Mrs. Blanche Chamberlin county school superintendent and Supervisor Val Keppel, as witnesses. The containers that were of any value were turned over to the poor farm. The sheriff on Saturday afternoon will smash up a number of stills that are at the county jail and the copper sold for junk.

SUBMARINE CREW OFFICIALLY PRAISED FOR SAVING MATE

WASHINGTON.—The navy department has officially commended three members of the crew of submarine S-11 for "exceptionally meritorious conduct" in connection with efforts to bring medical aid to a sick seaman marooned in the boat in Provincetown, Mass., harbor February 15 last.

The official report of the incident related that when George C. Winn, an engineer, was taken violently ill aboard the submarine, a severe northwest storm which held the craft in the harbor presented an apparently impossible task of reaching the shore, nearly a quarter of a mile distant. Two of the crew failed in an attempt to reach it in the submarine's thirteen foot boat and then Emil Carlson, chief boatswain's mate the "strongest man on board," took the boat alone and succeeded in reaching a schooner fifty yards ahead.

long enemy, Britain wishes Germany restored so that she may trade with her; France fears—who shall say without reason—that Germany restored means another ruthless invasion for her.

"France and Britain have been enemies oftener than friends during the last 200 years. It is plain truth to say that there has not been a time in modern history when two nations controlling the destiny of the world stood so much in need of an impartial counselor, guide, and friend to compose inevitable differences as they arise as Britain and France stand in need of such a one today.

League the Only Agency

"Japan is too far away and is too alien in blood and tradition for such a service and it seems indisputably clear to those of us who believe, notwithstanding the experience of the last nine years, that this is still God's world, that this great detached, powerful, and peace loving nation of ours has been sent of heaven to thus serve our friends, our allies, and mankind by holding these two great nations together in amity and peace.

"We may not be able to accomplish this end, but it is our manifest destiny to attempt it and there's no agency in the world through which such efforts can be made with the slightest prospect of success except that of the league of nations."

VESSELS COLLIDE ON CLEAR DAY; NORSE SHIP LOST

No Lives Lost When Steamers Crash Near Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md.—The Danish steamer Nordhvalen was sunk in a collision with the British steamer Barracoo in Craighill channel about fourteen miles from Baltimore Friday night. The Nordhvalen lies in about twenty feet of water with her superstructure exposed. No lives were lost it was said. Both are freighters.

The crew of the Nordhvalen, remained aboard. The Barracoo was damaged, but proceeded to this port and anchored in the lower harbor. The weather was clear and each steamer was in charge of a pilot. The agents of the vessel said they were unable at this time to give the cause of the collision.

The Nordhvalen was coal laden bound for St. Nazaire, France, and the Barracoo was in ballast coming to Baltimore from New York.

Eight Bodies Recovered

VINEYARDHAVEN, Mass.—Eight bodies were recovered by fishermen Saturday from Vineyard sound. They are believed to be those of members of the crew of a vessel which coast guards saw sinking yesterday. The bodies had life preservers bearing the name "John Dwight, New York."

A craft named the John Dwight has been engaged recently in salvage of cargoes of wrecked vessels.

SHERIFF IN CHARGE OF KLAN OFFICERS

ATLANTA, Ga.—By The Associated Press.—Sheriff J. J. Lowry is maintained as custodian of the Imperial palace, eneral headquarters, and a committee composed of Emperor William J. Simmons, Imperial Wizard H. W. Evans, and J. M. George, marshal of the municipal court, appointed to run the business of the Ku Klux Klan until a hearing can be had on the rule nisi, under an order handed down Saturday by Judge E. D. Thomas.

Judge Thomas' order revoked a previous ruling in which he had placed Imperial Wizard Evans and the others back in control.

HUSBAND AND AIDE HELD FOR MURDER

NEW YORK.—James Blanding, husband of one of two women found hacked to death Friday on a lonely Staten Island road, and Broyario Di Lorenzo, assistant in his Jersey City barber shop, Saturday were arrested on charges of manslaughter. The men were held in $25,000 bail each. Detectives discovered in Jersey City a machine bearing smears believed to be blood stains.

BRITISH WOMEN PREFER KITCHENS

LONDON.—The census records in the employment of women show that 357 out of every 1,000 employed are in domestic service, 145 in the manufacture of clothing, and that 125 do clerical work.

Commercial and financial houses employ the largest percentage of men. Out of every thousand, 102 labor for concerns of this kind.

BELGIANS SEIZE MONEY

ESSEN.—Belgian troops seized two billion marks in paper money at Mulheim, to be used as part payment of the expenses of the occupation of the Ruhr.

HUMAN FLY KILLED

MURFREESBORO, Tenn.—Ray Royce, 25, of St. Louis, a "human fly," slipped while climbing a steeple of the county court house and fell to feet to a roof below. He was killed.

HARVEY "COVERS" STRIKE

LONDON.—Ambassador Harvey has turned reporter to seek the facts in England's farm strike for the benefit of America's farmers.

Pike Supposed to be Longest Lived Fish

The pike, though greedy and fond of heavy meals, is slow growing, and is believed to live longer than any other species of fish. A Swiss naturalist has recorded the history of one that was 267 years old. It had spent its entire existence as a prisoner in a fish pond.

London omnibuses last year carried 417,000,000 passengers.

CLOSE ON TRAIL OF MEN WHO HELPED MAIL THIEF FLIT

Burns Says There Will be Arrest Soon in Chapman Escape

ATLANTA, Ga.—By The Associated Press.—That he has a "very definite idea" of the men who "put up the money," for the escape of Gerald Chapman, the millionaire bobber New York mail bandit, from the federal penitentiary here, was asserted Saturday by William J. Burns, chief of the investigating bureau of the department of justice. Apprehension of the men he said is expected shortly. "From information I have just received," Mr. Burns declared, "I think the case will be cleared up shortly." He did not indicate how many men he suspected of complicity in the case.

The director of the bureau of investigation declared that he was "primarily" interested in the apprehension of the men who he said provided funds which resulted in the escape of Chapman. At the same time the hunt for the bandit is being pushed vigorously and additional department of justice agents have been dispatched to Athens to join in the hunt.

TROUT SEASON TO OPEN ON MAY 15 IF BILL PASSES

MADISON.—The open season on trout fishing, scheduled to open May 1, will not be opened until May 15, if the recommendation of the assembly fish and game committee of the legislature is enacted into law.

Assemblyman Newcomb Spoor, Berlin, chairman of the committee, today outlined a half dozen important changes in present laws that will be recommended soon by his committee in bills now being drafted. Each change will be introduced in a separate bill Mr. Spoor said, so as not to give the senate a chance to kill them all off at once.

The change in the trout season would go into effect this year if the bill is given quick action and passed by both houses and signed by Governor Blaine before May 1. That such expeditious action will be taken, however, is considered improbable.

COUPLE DANCES 36 HOURS FOR RECORD

NEW YORK.—Miss Ruth Holleck and Jack Butler Saturday broke all known records of continuous dancing. At 6:17 o'clock this morning they had fox-trotted and waltzed for thirty-three hours. They announced to a sleepy gallery that they would quit at 9:17, making a record of thirty-six hours. The orchestra succumbed to sleep during the early morning hours, but the phonograph took up the burden.

"THREE R'S" DROPPED FROM NAVAL COURSE

WASHINGTON.—Spellin' and arithmetic, geography and grammar, those terrors of youth, are to be dropped from the entrance requirements of the naval academy. But the order for their removal, which was approved Saturday, adds English composition, ancient history, one foreign language and the choice of physics, chemistry, or general science, to the embryo worry.

FEAR PHARAOH'S CURSE

LONDON.—Believing the Earl of Carnarvon's death was caused by the ire of Tutankhamun's "ka"—his soul's double—a number of private collectors, fearing a like fate, are sending their treasures to the British Museum, the Daily Express said.

FLYER KILLED

DAYTON, O.—Captain Richard Derby, 28, of Tacoma, Wash., flyer at McCook field here, was instantly killed when his plane fell 1,500 feet near the field Saturday morning.

FOOT OF SNOW IN CHIPPEWA

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis.—Almost a foot of snow fell here Friday night and Saturday morning. Drifts caused by a high wind impeded street car and automobile traffic.

OFFER GERMANY FREE BEEF

BERLIN.—Argentine offered Germany gratis shipments of livestock for slaughter. The offer was made to reduce congestion and eventually obtain higher prices, it was declared.

"Pram" Race From London To Coast Staged in England

LONDON.—By the Associated Press.—Five sturdy mothers pushing perambulators each freighted with a protesting baby crossed Westminster bridge as Big Ben chimed at 5:15 o'clock this morning in a 52-mile race to Brighton.

The contest is the outgrowth of a controversy between the mothers of the north and south of England as to which section had the hardiest and speediest baby carriage chauffeurs. The contestants were cheered by a crowd around the parliament building as they got away at dawn on their long trek.

They expected to reach Brighton by sunset.

Officials of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children entered a protest against the affair, declaring the proceeding harmful to the children and asserting that if the little ones suffered, the mothers would be prosecuted.

Three of the babies are under a year old, the youngest only five months. The remaining two are both two years old.

It quickly became apparent that shoe leather and stamina were not the only factors in the race. Mrs. Ada May Edwards of Manchester, mother of the five months old baby, wheeling a light folding perambulator, took the lead at the start over the four heavier baby carriages, but soon lost her advantage when she had to halt to nurse her offspring who had been loudly noising its demand for nourishment. It was a quick lunch. Mrs. Edwards shoved the infant back into the perambulator after such a short interval that only one competitor passed her.

Mrs. Lily Groom of Eastbourne, reached Red Hill, twenty miles from Westminster, at 9:37 and Mrs. Edwards at 9:43. The others were trailing.

The winner will receive a silver "shoving" cup and about enough money to buy a new pair of shoes.

PRINCESS YOLANDA OF ITALY TO MARRY BEFORE 700 GUESTS

Small Invitation List to Royal Wedding Monday; Bride to Wear No Gems

ROME.—By The Associated Press.—Seven hundred persons have received invitations to the wedding of Princess Yolanda to Count Carlo Calvi di Bergolo next Monday morning. The invitations have been limited only to the civil and military households of the king and queen, the queen mother and the royal princes, in addition to the first four categories in the precedence list of state officials. The latter include wearers of the collar of the Annunziata with their wives, and the presidents of the senate and chamber, members of the cabinet judges of the supreme court, generals and admirals.

Princess Yolanda's wedding dress is of white. It carries a long train over which is a priceless piece of old lace, seven yards long and two yards wide. Following the ancient custom the bride will wear no jewels.

Presents are arriving from many parts of Italy as well as from abroad but the official list has not yet been published. The princess writes an autographed letter of thanks to all who remember her.

LOGAN PARENTS AND TEACHERS WILL MEET ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The Logan Junior High Parents' and Teachers' association will meet next Wednesday evening in the Logan high school. Prof. D. O. Coate of the Normal school, will speak on "School Decorations." There will be a musical program and a business session. A committee of mothers will serve refreshments.

NEW METHOD USED FOR TENDERFOOTS BY THE EXAMINERS

Troop Committee Acts as Court of Honor in Giving Tests, to Boy Scouts

On Friday evening, April 6th, was instituted a new method of procedure for the examination and investiture of tenderfoot Scouts. Hereafter all candidates joining the scouts, before they are allowed to wear the pin of the scout must appear before the troop committee, which acts as a court of honor, examining the candidate as to his proficiency, in elementary scouting, that is the ten courtesies to mother and the flag, the scout oath and law and the required knots. It is found there is a lack of contact between the candidate and the troop committee and pastor when a boy first enters scouting, and to mend this breach, it is decided to have all candidates hereafter appear before a regular troop committee court of honor, which will, perhaps, at the same time examine other boys for second class honors.

Friday evening, Horace Heller and Robert Bayer were examined by a court of honor of troop 5, in their requirements for tenderfoot and they were found exceptional, especially in their courtesies to mothers, and in the definition of a good turn. One of the boys explaining "A good turn is something you do for your mother without being asked, and it is something you do for other people without pay. If your mother asks you to do a thing, that is your duty, but if you sweep the sidewalk, carry out the garbage, straighten out rugs, and put things back in their regular places, that is a good turn."

At the same court three scouts, Edward Soderberg, Walter Wood, Jr., and Lewis Martin were examined for second class honors, and are privileged to wear the second class pin as soon as their pastor presents it to them. This gives Troop 5 a total of twelve second class scouts. Bob Keyes, acting scoutmaster, warned that this is only the beginning, and that before long troop five is going to lead the city.

NINE DIE IN LOSS OF RUM SMUGGLER

VINEYARDHAVEN, Mass.—The steamer John Dwight of New York, carrying a cargo of bottled ale believed to be intended for that port, went down in Vineyard sound Friday with a loss of at least nine lives. That was the number of bodies recovered by fishermen from Vineyard sound, where the steamer sank. The waters were reported strewn with barrels of bottled ale.

BRATIANO FALLS IN RUMANIAN CRISIS

BUCHAREST.—Premier Bratiano has tendered his resignation and the king has accepted it. Bratiano was the leader in the government which culminated in the adoption of Rumania's new constitution.

Was the Cave Man Ambidexterous?

A French archeologist Sarafin, after a study of implements used at various periods of human history, has concluded that right-handedness in man developed when he began to use mental instruments during the so-called bronze age.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK—Week-end profit-taking and short selling in some of the recent speculative favorites, combined with a resumption of operations for the rise in other quarters, imparted an irregular trend to opening prices in Saturday's stock market. Sugars continued their advance to higher ground under the leadership of Punta Alegre and Cuban American. Studebaker and Martin Perry led the advance in automotive shares.

Virginia-Carolina Chemical was again reactionary. Initial changes for the most part were limited to small fractions.

Price fluctuations continued narrow and irregular during the early trading. Wisconsin Central advanced a point and St. Paul preferred, and Chicago and Northwestern improved fractionally, but Norfolk and Western was heavy. Atlantic Gulf also advanced a point. Losses of a point each were registered by Virginia-Carolina Chemical Class "B," Davison Chemical and Iron Products. Kresge, which advanced twenty-three and one-half points Friday, fell back 1½ Saturday. Sinclair and the Pan-American issues also yielded fractionally.

Foreign exchanges opened steady. Demand sterling was unchanged at $4.66½, and French francs advanced one point to 6.61 cents.

Another sharp setback in prices took place in Saturday's brief session of the stock market. Reduction of the short interest by the recent spirited advance in certain stocks and the lack of sufficient buying support at the higher levels had left the market in a weakened technical position which bear traders were quick to sense and take advantage of. Barndall Oil shares were the principal targets, the bear drive in this group setting off a number of stop-loss orders. Barndall "A" dropped more than six points before buying support was forthcoming and the "B" dropped two to a new low record. Chemical shares again turned heavy, American Agricultural Chemical preferred slumping three points. Iron Products also was conspicuously weak. The closing was heavy. Sales approximated 450,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, Ill.—Unfavorable crop reports from the southwest together with cold weather and snow in the northwest led to general buying of wheat Saturday during the early dealings, and gave July and September deliveries a 1c to new high records for the season. High winds were reported in parts of Oklahoma and Nebraska. Profit-taking on the price advances failed to bring about any important reaction. The opening which varied from unchanged figures to ⅛c higher, with May $1.21¼ to $1.22 and July $1.19 to $1.19¼, was followed by decided gains all around.

September delivery displayed the most strength, houses with northwestern connections being active buyers, presumably as a result of expected delays to seeding. The close was firm ⅛ to 1c net higher, with May $1.22 to $1.22½ and July $1.20½ to $1.20⅝.

Corn and oats reflected the wheat advance. After opening ⅛c off to ⅛ to ⅛c up, May 76⅝ to ¾ to 76½c, the corn market scored a moderate general upturn.

Much selling of July and buying of May tended to unsettle the market later. The close was nervous at net gains of a shade to ⅜c, May 77⅛ to 77¼c.

Oats started at a shade decline to ⅛c advance, May 45⅛ to ⅛ to 45½c and later showed gains for all deliveries.

Provisions were easy owing to a setback in hog values.

PUPILS DEMAND THE SCHOOL BOARD STOP ITS SMOKING

HAZELTON, Pa.—Pupils of the eighth grade at the West Hazelton public school have sent a communication signed by the "Health Committee" demanding that the school board, which meets in the eighth grade room at the school building, abstain from smoking at meetings. Unless the board stops smoking, the letter says, there will be a general strike of students.

BRAZILIAN REBELS DRIVEN FROM FIELD

BUENOS AIRES.—Brazilian revolutionists have been obliged to raise the siege of the town of Uruguayana, losing forty killed and many wounded in the operation, says a dispatch to La Nacion from Paso de Los Libres. The state forces according to their leaders, lost three killed and ten wounded.

The correspondent asserts that the rebels, numbering about 800 men, have retired to Quarahy where they will seek reinforcements before returning for a new attack.

Emperor Napoleon bathed his head and shoulders in cologne as a preparation for the rigors of campaigning.

UNCLE SAM'S NEWEST SHIP—ONE LEGGED BOWLER EXPERT—TOWER FALLS—TUT TROT NEW DANCE

BROADWAY HAS A VIRGINIA RAPPE CASE—Two bankers and other suitors figure in the death mystery of Mrs. Frances "Bobby" Beckwith Cahuvey who died after a New York "gin party" from injuries similar to those which caused the death of Virginia Rappe (inset) of Arbuckle case notoriety.

QUEEN TUT—Queen Tut-Ankh-Amen upon her first appearance in America. This is the way Lira Tosselli, a model, will present her at an artists' ball in New York.

UNCLE SAM'S NEWEST—The new U. S. cruiser Detroit on a trial spin after leaving the Bethlehem shipbuilding yards. She's 552 feet long and is capable of developing 105,000 horsepower, has four propellers and her metal rigging is entirely insulated from the deck to facilitate radio communication.

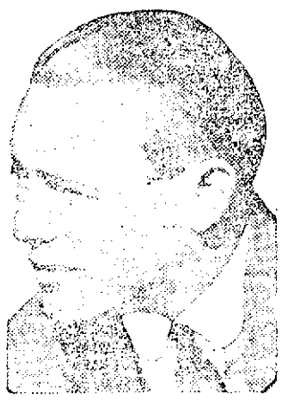

HA! THE TUT-ANKH-AMEN TROT!—Of course, it had to come, and here it is—the Tut-Ankh-Amen fox trot. President Arthur Murray of the National Institute of Social Dancing and Helen Hernadeen, said by critics to be New York's best ballroom dancer, are seen dancing it.

CONGRESSMEN KEEP FIT ON NAVAL JUNKET—Representatives and senators are shown here on the hurricane deck of U. S. S. Henderson going through setting-up exercises under the direction of the naval instructor. This battleship bearing the members of congress was on its way to the war maneuvers at Panama.

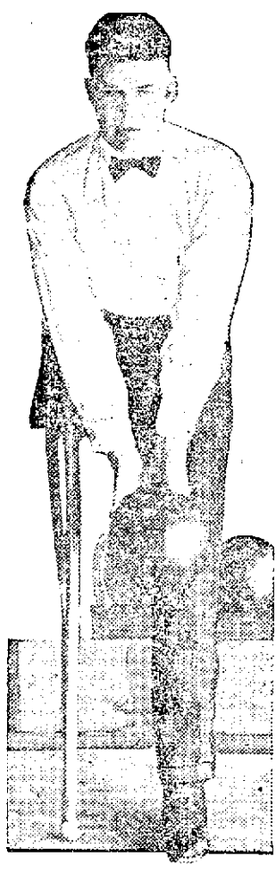

ADVICE TO GIRLS — "No nice girl will bob her hair or wear trousers," says Mrs. Ann Uhrig, of Corinth, N. Y. And she has seen a lot of life. When she reached 101 the other day she was made a member of the Daughters of Columbia County Historical Society.

CHARGES PLOT— John A. Hastings, New York state senator from Brooklyn, charges that drug valued at $2,000 found among his effects were "planted" by a certain faction seeking to discredit him.

DIVORCED FROM GOULD, KEEPS CHILDREN — When the marital difficulties of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, Jr., were solved in a Nice, France, divorce court, custody of the two children was awarded to the mother. Mrs. Gould, formerly Laura Carter of Boston, eloped with young Gould in 1917. Above is Mrs. Gould with her two children, George J. Gould 3rd (left) and Maughn Carter Gould.

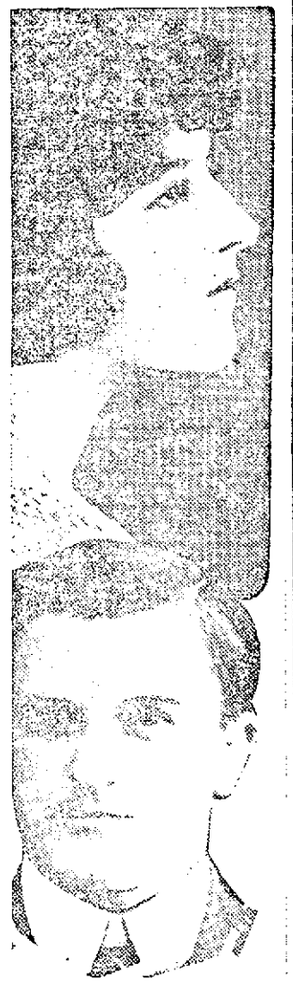

NO HANDICAP — Lewis Jardine, of Seneca Falls, is one of the best bowlers in New York state although he has but one leg. His friends claim he is the champion one-legged bowler of the United States.

IN EGYPT—Lady Portchester, wife of the son and heir of Lord Carnarvon, is now in Egypt where the explorer of Tutankhamen's tomb died recently. She was formerly Miss Katherine Wendell, New York society girl.

NEW PREXY—Miss Ada L. Comstock, dean of Smith College, is to be the first woman president of Radcliffe College. Also she will be the first full-time president for Radcliffe, as she succeeds Le Baron R. Briggs, who for 20 years has been head of Radcliffe and dean of the Harvard Faculty of Arts and Sciences.

MYSTERY DEATHS — New York police believed that Miss Helena Ziegler shot Frederick W. Burnham, wealthy New York contractor, in his office and then killed herself with an old-fashioned revolver after learning that her friend of nine years was married. Her relatives now say she never possessed a gun and believe Burnham killed her and then himself.

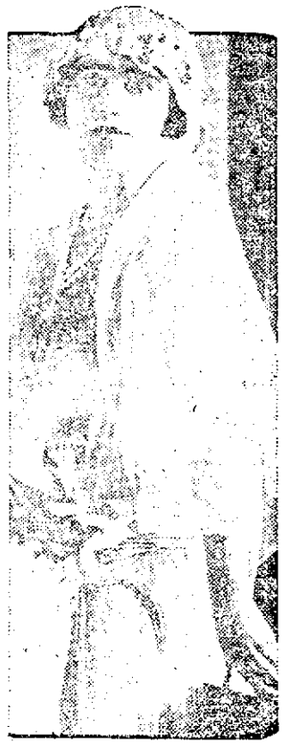

IT'S A PLEASURE—Miss Helen M. Sperry, 19, served as town treasurer of Mexico, N. Y., one year, she was re-elected with 1,258 of 1,260 votes cast. "It's a pleasure to pay taxes to Let," one of the oldest inhabitants said as he cast his vote.

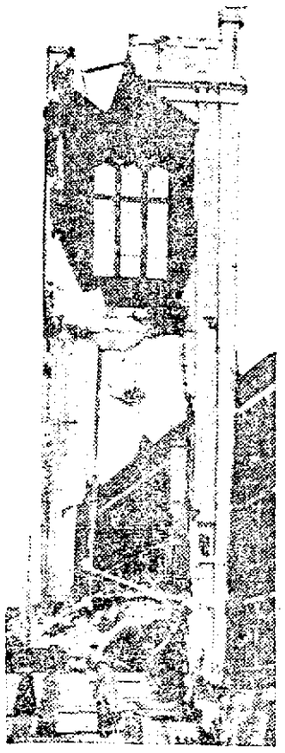

HUSBAND LOSES— Mrs. Lucile Burton, of Bath, Me., who lost court ruling is entitled to recover $50,000 in bonds from her husband, Ralph H. Burton. She testified the bonds were given her by a millionaire who died recently and turned over to her husband for deposit. The husband claimed they had been given to him.

A LEATHERNECK MAKES A RECORD— W. A. Lee, U. S. Marine Corps, who has been in the service for 40 years, is shown here with Mrs. Lee and their two children, Colonel Butler and General Lee, as he received his discharge.

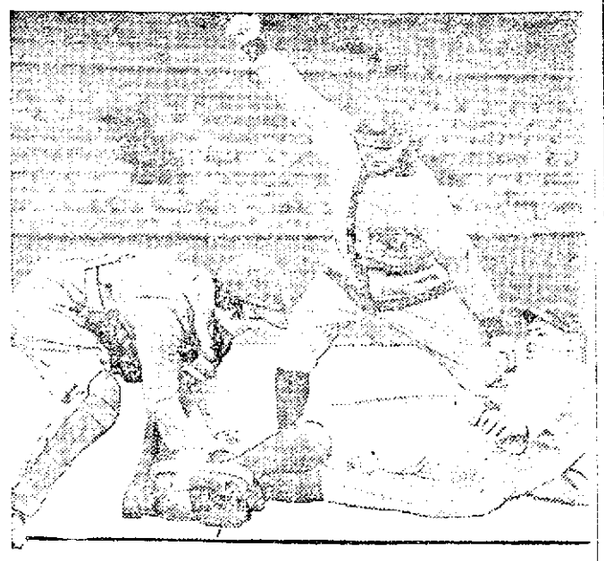

IN BRIDAL FINERY — This is the way Lady Rowes-Lyon will appear to the Duke of York on his wedding morn next month when she becomes the bride of the second son of King George and Queen Mary.

NINE KILLED — Nine were killed when this tower at the Fuller Brush plant at Hartford, Conn., collapsed. The collapse was due to the upsetting of a 150-ton steel water tank.

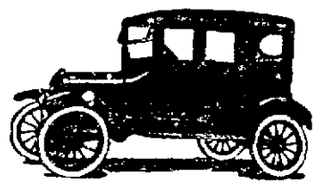

YOUNGEST — Edward Roche Hardy, Jr., who entered Columbia University at 12, is a senior at 14 and the youngest person ever admitted to the Phi Beta Kappa, honorary fraternity.

PUTS BUBBY OUT AT HOME—But there is no friction, dear reader, in the happy domicile of Mr. and Mrs. Wally Schang. Here is Mrs. Schang, wife of the famous Yankee catcher, putting her husband out at home at the New Orleans training camp. Carl Mays is giving the decision.
